RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

. Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters. The temperature fell several degrees last night. The penitentiary got one new convict yesday from Cleveland county. At the treasury department yesterday $28,500 of old bonds were received for exchange. It would be a good idea for the electric people to see what the trouble is with the lights in the north-eastern part of the city. Bowser's New Vandeville and Comedy Company is booked at Metropolitan hall for next Monday night. It appears to be quite a "fly" affair.

There will be an important business meeting of the Raleigh Academy of Medicine to-night at eight o'clock. Every member requested to be present.

An unstamped letter, addressed to Mrs. Sally S. McRee, Laurel Hill, N. C., was picked up on the street yesterday, and left at the CHRONICLE office. The writer may get it by applying for it.

Mr. E. S. Cheek has been selected as the representative of Raleigh Typographical Union No. 54, to the International Union, which holds its session in Atlanta, Ga., on Tuesday, June 10th.

The following case was argued yesterday: Osborne vs. Wilkes, from Mecklenburg; argued by G. F. Bason, B. C. Potts and W. P. Bynum; for plaintiff; P. D. Walker and Charles W. Tillett for defendant.

Jesse Brown, who was convicted of murder in Craven county and sentenced to be hanged April 11th, but whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, was brought to the penitentiary yesterday.

The piano used at the concert last Friday evening, was one of the Knabe Grands from Peace Institute. It was kindly loaned by Mr. Burwell, and its and success of the entertainment.

Several parties have been caught up from time to time under the law and ample and precedents seemed to have day nights. no effect upon eleven naughty young men of the city, for on last Sunday evening they collected themselves in a back room in the Fowle building, on Martin street, and indulged in a game of cards. The lynx-eyed police ferreted them out, however, and ordered them before the Mayor. Yesterday morning they dropped in, one or two at a time, and planked down before the Chief of Police, the sum of ten dollars each for the little fun they had on Sun-

Last Easter Monday he went with a number of little friends on a pic-nic to enough, if possible, to give the business Milburnie. When he came home at men and clerks an hour in the country he had recently been elected president quite sick at night. He continually would prove beneficial and delightful to tesy if the committee would allow his grew worse until yesterday morning when his cheerful, sunny and lovable spirit took its everlasting flight. Many people older than he, as well as his many little friends, will sadly miss him; for he was one of the brightest and gayest among them, and won everybody to him by his kind, tender and loving disposition. The grounds on which this pic-nic was held were the same as those on which a large party of young ladies and gentlemen from this city, pic-niced last summer, and among whom were a number of cases of death and serious illness that are yet sadly remembered.

Depot and Railroad Tips.

It appears that there has been little, if indeed any, foundation for the rumors to the effect that the Atlantic Coast Line would join in the building of the new extend the Albemarle and Raleigh railroad to this point.

President Elliott, of the Coast Line, was here yesterday, and was asked by a CHRONICLE reporter two direct questions with reference to this matter. He said there was no intention, at present, of extending the line from Springhope to Raleigh, and that there was no proposition on the part of the Coast Line to join in the erection of the Raleigh depot.

Early Closing of the Stores.

For some years past it has been the custom of the business houses of Raleigh to close at an early hour during the summer months. The custom was begun in 1883 and has been generally observed since then. At first the hour It will be noticed that the ordinance for closing was eight o'clock. Two years afterward it was put at 7 o'clock, and the business houses were closed at this hour from the first or fifteenth of May to the first of September. These made to pay the penalty. The custom has been greatly appreciated by both proprietors and clerks alike. It has proven a restful and recreative feature, and should not be ignored. It is to be regretted that business methods will not permit the closing at early hours on Saturday as well as on other evenings, but it is pretty certain that business men cannot see their way clear to include Saturday, and early closing on that day may not be hoped for. It will not be long before the early closing system will be in vogue all the year round. Why cannot Raleigh take initiative? Let the hour for closing this year amount to something. Let it be early the Payment of Texas-Some of the Committee's Work Yesterday.

Mr. G. F. Bason, a prominent lawyer tion investigation committee met here yesterday. The session being held in the law department of the State library:

The members of the committee are State Senators E. W. Kerr, of Sampson, and B. F. Aycock, of Wayne, and Representatives M. E. Carter, of Buncombe; T. H. Sutton, of Cumberland, and J. B. Holman, of Iredell.

Mr. Carter, who is expected to arrive The committee was created under the

> Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring: That a special committee, to consist of two senators and three representatives, be appointed, who shall forthwith proceed to investigate the question of the liability of any railroad or other corporation, claiming immunity from taxation by virtue of any provision in its charter, to list and pay taxes upon its property, and who shall also investigate and ascertain what railroads or other corporations have failed and refused to list their stock and other property for taxation; and to this end the said committee may sit during a recess of the General Assembly, may shall report the testimony taken by them,

The committee has held one meeting in this city previous to this, when it organized by electing Mr Kerr chairman. At the same meeting, a line of work was mapped out, and subpænas were issued to the representatives of the Atlantic Coast Line and and the Raleigh & Gaston railroad to appear before them at this meeting. Both these roads have charters exempting them from taxation. The exemption in the charter of the Coast Line is absolute. That of the Raleigh & Gaston is conditional, because the provision is that the road shall pay tax when its net earnings shall equal a certain per cent.

The R. & G. R. R.

Representatives of both lines appeared before the committee yesterday. It is understood that the R. & G. claims that its net earnings do not equal the per cent. allowed by the charter. The ground taken by the committee is that a portion of the net earnings of the line have been expended in the building of branch lines; but that such expendithat the funds are net earnings.

The R. & G., through its attorney, Col. Hinsdale, asked that an extension of time be granted before an investigafused by the committee; and unless the road shall comply with the committee's demands, the investigation will be proceeded with. The committee did not proceed with an investigation.

W. & W. R. R. Co.

Mr. Warren G. Elliott, president of the W. & W. railroad company, appeared before the committee and stated that, as evening he was unwell, and became or in the parks during the evening. The CHRONICLE is glad to see that the committee is determined to make the railroads in the State pay their propor-

He Has Looked at Two Squirrels Until he Has Monomaniac Fits.

The wild cat which was recently on exhibition at Lee, Johnson & Co's., drug store has gone crazy.

It all came about in this way: Mr. A. Dughi bought the animal and put it in a double cage. In one of the sections of the cage were two squirrels, separated from the wild cat's apartment by iron rods. Just as soon as the cat was put in the cage his gaze became rivited on the squirrels, and they so fascinated him that he stared at the the little bushy tails for three days. The cat never took his eyes off them to eat or drink. He appeared to have a rag ing appetite for squirrels and he would touch nothing else. At the end of the third day the cat evidently came to the conclusion that he could wait no longer for the dainty morsels before him. He dashed himself against the bars screaming and foaming at the Strict Middling.
